The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

The Extra Layer

Supervisor Lou Conde only is one-fifth of the problem the Board of supervisors has with itself.

That doesn't prevent him from being responsive to the pressures that are being put on him — and the other four supervisors — by the "extra layer of government" the board of supervisors helped spawn.

He made a statement last week that sounded as if it had been lifted verbatim from the DIMMER VIEW.

The subject at the time was the issue of locating an airport at Otay Mesa as programmed by CPO (Comprehensive Planning Organization). Just as in the case of this newspaper's editorialist, he was squawking to his fellow supervisors about failure to recognize the people's right to speak to the issue.

He also took a swing at the CPO — the organization which decides, in many cases, how many people can live in your home and whether you may keep a goat or a horse or even, in some cases, plant shrubs or trees.

Said Conde: ". . . We don't want CPO to spend any more of the taxpayers' money coming up with programs on how to get the airport built on the site they have selected on Otay Mesa.

"We don't want any more money spent until the public has the opportunity to speak and say 'yes, we do want the airport there, go ahead and spend the money planning . . .' If the people don't want the airport at Otay, then why should CPO continue to spend the taxpayers' money on how to get the airport there? . . ."

The Board then voted 3-2 to delete County Counsel's recommendations on a referendum of the issue to the people.

Conde said initiative petitions for getting the issue on the ballot are available at his office.

Meanwhile, stories continue to circulate that vast fortunes will be made by landowners in the Otay Mesa area if the airport is built there. While these yarns suggest that some politicians are involved, no supervisor has been named.

Invisible Driver Given Citation

The sheriff's deputy did a double-take as he drove past the vehicle southbound on Glencoe August 6 in the late afternoon.

It appeared to have no driver.

Doubling back the officer followed the car for a short distance as it traveled in an erratic fashion down the road.

There was indeed a driver in the car because it stopped after the officer turned on his red light. The driver turned out to be a short male. He had reason to be short. He was 13 years old.

Out stepped a passenger. He was 14 years old.

The driver said the car belonged to a 17-year San Diego youth. Police contacted him and he said he didn't actually permit the 13-year old boy to take the car but on the other hand he didn't mind that he did.

The driver was cited for failure to posses a driver's license.

Grove Man Faces Prowling Charge

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Bradley of 2357 Washington st., in Lemon Grove were watching television about 11 p.m. August 1 when they saw a head pass a 2x4 high window in the teevee room.

Bradley got his trusty .22 calibre gun and went out to investigate. He spied a male, about 22, crouching on the shadow side of his wall and demanded that the suspect lie on the ground as he told his wife to call the police.

The suspect stood up rather than obey Bradley's order. Bradley fired a round into the air. The suspect immediately obliged.

When sheriff's deputies came and patted the suspect down, they found a ski mask in his pocket.

Booked on suspicion of prowling was Michael George Lasher, a white male, of 2504 Crestline dr., Lemon Grove. He is reported to have claimed he was looking for his pet dog.

He will be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

Spring Valley Flood Project OK'd

The folks in Brookside are going to get some flood relief — but it won't be what they had been hoping for.

Those in the Brookside area wanted the floodway ditch covered for safety considerations.

Those with property south of there claim there has never been a flood except where backwater at a too-small culvert occasionally forms a small pond from time to time.

The latter will get help. The help is by way of a job opportunities problem. $125,000 worth.

The approval of the $100,000 grant to help create jobs in San Diego County was announced by Congressmen Bob Wilson and Clair Burgener.

The County Department of Sanitation and Flood Control applied for the grant from the Economic Development Administration, U. S. Department of Commerce, under the Job Opportunities Program.

The funds will be used to help construct 1,500 feet of channel ban re-enforcement in the Spring Valley Creek between Tyler and Valencia streets. The County is adding $25,000 to the grant money. The project will prevent bank erosion and provide an increased level of flood protection to the area.

13 Jobs Open

Work on the project is expected to get underway within 60 days and be completed within six months. The project is expected to provide jobs for 13 unemployed persons from the area.

This project was one of 877 selected by Secretary of Commerce Rogers C. B. Morton in June for participation in the Job Opportunities Program which is being carried out under an amendment adding Title X to the Public Works and Economic Development Act. Title X provides funds for projects that will help put the unemployed to work in their home communities.

These projects exhausted the original $125 million appropriated to the program. President Ford recently signed into law a bill which adds another $375 million to the program.

ONE OWNER'S SOLUTION to the Broadway parking problem manifested itself last week. The owner of the property leased by Linda's and Winchell's Donuts simply called in an asphalt firm to repave his section of the pot-hole marked parking area in front of the stores. The County has expressed willingness to maintain the parking strip if property owners are willing to grant an easement of the parking property to the county.

Trace 30 Auto Thefts To 3 S.V. Teenagers

Three detectives working out of the Sheriff's Lemon Grove office cracked one of the largest juvenile auto theft activities ever recorded in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area this week.

So far, three male juveniles, 15, 16 and 17 have been apprehended. There are five or six suspects altogether, officers said.

In addition to tracing nearly 30 auto thefts — mostly VWs and Datsons — to the group, several burglaries were involved in the charges. As a matter of fact it was the burglaries which uncovered the auto thefts.

The detectives involved are Craig Henderson, Ed Masters and Neil Willoughby, all veterans of the Sheriff's Department. Henderson and Masters normally work adult crimes, but they fill in on juveniles as their other duties allow. Willoughby recently completed a tour under a state-federal grant in which he and a fellow officer, were instructed to dress as hippies with full beard and long hair to try to break a vehicle crime ring which reached from San Francisco to Phoenix and included Los Angeles and San Diego.

Burglary Key

The puzzle began to unravel after burglars invaded the Bargain Bin Market at 9935 Campo rd. in Casa de Oro in July.

In addition to stealing 80 cases of beer, 200 cartons of cigarettes and the store's stereo equipment, they destroyed hundreds of dollars worth of meat by taking it out of the cooler and draging it through sawdust; cases of watermelons were split open, and severe damage was done to other items.

Loss to theft and damage amounted to several thousand dollars. The store's owner, Ron Puthoff, offered a reward of $100 for information concerning the break-in.

One tip led to a youth who was already on probation for burglary. When deputies went to his residence they saw the market's missing stereo.

Three Counts

Confronted with the stolen evidence, the youth confessed to the Bargin Bin caper. He was later charged with three counts of burglary which included another market and a lumber firm. He already had a record of nine previous burglaries, but records did not indicate that he was a car thief.

The police started checking out some of his buddies. One, a 16-year old youth, admitted that he had stolen a car here and there.

That was when Willoughby was called in. His experience with special projects came in handy. Soon he had a confession from the youth which involved 30 vehicles each worth approximately $3,000.

This suspect implicated another. It was almost routine, now. The second suspect admitted stealing some cars — how many where was not clear in his mind because sometimes, he said, he was using LSD.

The Family

The youth came from an interesting family in Spring Valley. The father was gone — somewhere. His brother had died last year from an overdose of drugs. His smaller brother had been ill of a drug overdose earlier this year. When officers first went to his home they found his mother unconscious from a drug overdose. She had just been released the day before from a hospital where she had

VdO Committee Plans September 6 Hearing

The new Valle de Oro Executive Committee met at Monte Vista High last week to formulate plans for a major public hearing regarding the planning and development of the Valle de Oro area.

Twenty-four members and 11 county representatives met to distribute questionnaires and discuss the hearing plans at the meeting.

A large turnout is anticipated for the hearing planned September 6 at Spring Valley Junior High school auditorium. Citizens will break into sub-committees to comment on specific issues regarding the area's growth.

Sub-committees include Park and Recreation, chaired by Art Lee; Conservation by Harriet Allen, Land Use by Jim Baker and Public Facilities by Ken Taylor.

County timetable for Valle de Oro calls for a report on planning recommendations by the committee by July, 1977. Committee members expect to beat that deadline by one year, according to secretary Carolyn Blocker.

The Valle de Oro Executive Committee is the new county-recognized group appointed this year. The old group, the Valley de Oro Planning Commission, still holds meetings every second Wednesday of each month at Monte Vista High school, 7:30 p.m.

Some members of the Executive Committee attend the Planning Commission meetings.

Governing Board Positions Up for Election in L.G., S.V. Districts

The filing period opened last week for persons seeking board seats in several East County special districts. Candidates have until the first of September to submit nominating petitions to the county registrar of voters office.

Up for election are board members of the Helix Water District, Lemon Grove Fire Protection District and the Spring Valley Fire Protection District. Election is held November 4.

At Helix, seats held by board of directors chairman Harry Griffen, who represents Division 3, and board members Nat Eggert in Division 5 and Mabel Bryan in Division 1 are up for election.

Helix Board of Directors receive $50 for each day of work related to the water district with a limit of six meetings a month.

Lemon Grove Fire District incumbents include James Dorman and Robert F. Burns.

In Spring Valley, seats of fire protection directors Virgil Steffen, Stanley Totten and Richard Allen are up for election.

Directors in both fire protection districts receive the maximum $50 per meeting with a limit of four meetings a month. Both districts usually hold two meetings monthly.

Candidate hopefuls must pick up nominating petitions from the districts in which they reside and submit them to the county registrar of voters by September 1.

The petitions must be signed by no less than 10 nor more than 20 registered voters in the district.

The districts fall under the Uniform District Election Law which is made up of irrigation, water and fire districts.

If no opponent files to run against an incumbent, the governing board has the authority to reappoint the incumbent.

Other East County districts with board of directors openings include fire protection districts in Santee, Lakeside and the Grossmont-Mt. Helix area.

Missing Girl Search Widens

Sheriff's deputies widened their search for missing 7-year-old Elaine Taylor Tuesday night and Wednesday into Lemon Grove as they sought a man, 20-25 years old, 150 pounds, 5½ feet tall.

He is the man who bought two soft drinks at a Monte Vista Ranch Tuesday explaining that one was for a friend.

Elaine is the daughter of Dr. Philip L. Taylor, an El Cajon dentist and his estranged wife, Mrs. Carol Taylor. The mother and her two daughters live in Calavo Gardens in the Spring Valley area.

Officers did not reveal why they were searching in Lemon Grove's Vista La Mesa area.

A portion of a lightweight white blanket missing from the girl's bed was found late Monday near the Monte Vista ranch. Remains of food stolen from a mobile home on the ranch were found near the blanket. A small pair of girl's riding boots was reported stolen from the ranch, also.

The girl was missing from her home Friday night when her mother returned late and checked Elaine's bedroom.

The sheriff has requested volunteer riders to join in the search in the Cottonwood Golf Course area.

S.V. 'Pigeon Drop' Costs Woman $450

The old "pigeon drop" is back in town!

It is so simple and so obvious, it always amazes other than the victim that anyone would fall for it.

Anna Belle Parker, a senior citizen of 2475 Helix st. in Spring Valley did on August 6 and it cost her over $300 in cash and a diamond ring worth $150.

Here's how it worked.

Mrs. Parker cashed her social security check at Von's Market in the Spring Valley Shopping Center about 2:30 and proceeded to do her shopping.

A young woman who seemed genuinely distressed informed her that she had found a large sum of money and didn't know what to do with it.

At that point another woman approached the pair and suspect no. 1 told suspect no. 2 about the find. Suspect 2 said she worked for a lawyer and he would give them advice.

Friendly Woman

Suspect 1 was so friendly that she offered to split the other two in because they had been understanding — but each had to put up some "earnest money" first.

Mrs. Parker offered the woman $90 which was all she had in her purse. One suspect told her that it was not enough so she drove the two to her home where she got together more than $200. That wasn't enough either, so she threw in her diamond ring.

Seeks Attorney

Then at the direction of the women, Mrs. Parker drove them to a residential area where suspect 2 said the attorney lived. The two got out of the car telling Mrs. Parker to wait. She did — for more than an hour after which she began to suspect that she had been bilked.

She had! Even so, she was lucky. Recently a similar scam cost a Lemon Grove woman more than $2,000.

She went to the sheriff's office in Lemon Grove and reported the incident to them.

They are looking for two white females 25-30 each slightly more than 5 feet tall; one thin and the other heavy.

Mrs. Park is 88.

His mailman told him the letterswere not there when he made his regular pickup.

'Religious Ceremony' Interrupted by Cops

Sheriff's deputies described it as a "religious ceremony."

They stumbled onto four persons sitting around a small bonfire in a field near he 8200 block on Panchoy lane in Lemon Grove about 11 p.m. August 5.

They were looking for a person reported sleeping in a field in that area.

Police reports indicate that two of the foursome left as the officers approached.

The two remaining were Gary Lee Fletcher, 19, of 8017 Drexel dr., Lemon Grove, and a 16-year old Spring Valley girl.

Around the fire were two sleeping bags, some bamboo mats and several marijuana and peyote elements laid out in ceremonial fashion together with a book on Hare Krishna officers said.

Taken as evidence were 18 peyote buttons, 19 grams of marijuana in two bags, two marijuana cigarettes and two marijuana roaches.

Fletcher was charged with misdemeanor possession of peyote and the girl was turned over to her parents.

The other two persons were not apprehended.

Fletcher will be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

The touring program is designed to introduce and encourage children to take part in the regular daily program.

Sheriff's Men Prove Grove Party Poopers

It was a pretty good party —until the cops came.

It was given by Michael Angelo Cervantes, 20, of 3004 Massachusetts ave. in Lemon Grove, according to police records.

Before sheriff's deputies discussed the party with Cervantes, they had contacted Joseph Phillip Blanchard, 18, of 8268 Alton dr. in Lemon Grove. The report indicated that Blanchard had staggered away from the party about 1 a.m. Saturday morning carrying a schooner of beer. His apparent condition indicated that an intoxication test be given, officers reported. He didn't pass.

Deputies reported that he also possessed a marijuana cigarette.

Returning to the party they located Cervantes who said he had been next door cleaning up a "mess" that had been made by a party-goer becoming ill.

Blanchard was charged with intoxication; minor possessing an alcoholic beverage and misdemeanor possession of marijuana. A 16-year old youth was charged with being drunk in public.

Cervantes was charged with providing alcoholic beverages to minors.

Cervantes, unemployed, said he gives parties regularly but had had no prior difficulty.

They will be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

Lemon Grove Woman Raped

A 21-year old nurse's aide who was forced into a car at 4:45 a.m. August 7, told sheriff's deputies she was raped.

She said she was walking along the sidewalk at her residence on Fairway dr., Lemon Grove when a black male, about 30 years of age, pulled her into his car and drove into the back country where he forced her to perform various sexual acts.

The case is being handled by the sheriff's crimes of violence department.

Closer Patient Monitor Plan to Upgrade Medi-Cal

A speedy and more personal system for monitoring hospital stays of Medi-Cal patients will be inaugurated by the State Department of Health this fall.

Lee Helsel, Medi-Cal division manager, said a registered nurse will make daily hospital visits to check on patients for whom the state pays. The nurse will review the patient's progress and determine the need, if any, for additional days of care. Physicians employed by Medi-Cal will make the final decisions, on the number of days for which the state will pay.

As part of the "on-site visit" system, Helsel said, emergency admissions to hospitals will be reviewed after the third day, rather than the eighth day as the present system allows. A public hearing on this proposal will be held in Sacramento this September.

With existing Medi-Cal procedures, hospitals may be denied payment for days of care that have already been provided. Helsel said the new system will benefit the hospital by making Medi-Cal's decision known before non-reimbursable costs are incurred.

The proposed three-day limitation for emergency stays would provide net savings of more than $7.7 million through next June and more than $14.6 million in a full year. In 1974, Medi-Cal paid for 600,000 hospital admissions, of which 400,000 were considered emergencies.

Safe Picnicking

Having a meal in a lovely outdoor setting is one of the joys of summer. But food infection from bacteria can quickly dim that joy.

In planning your picnic, remember that the simpler the meal is, the safer it is likely to be. If you are in a mood to do fancy cooking, complete with cream sauces, custard fillings and other rich foods, prepare and serve such a meal at home where you can control the temperature at which your food is stored and served. Don't plan such food for a picnic.

Food that is kept at room temperature for any length of time becomes a breeding ground for a variety of bacteria, many of which can cause food poisoning — a disorder than can range from severe discomfort to acute danger. The interlude of time between when you prepare your food at home and when, having arrived at your destination, you finally eat your picnic is more than time enough for the bacteria to flourish.

If you are trying to keep food cool, it should be kept below 40 degrees; hot food should be above 140 degrees. An insulated box with a tight-fitting cover will keep food cool for a short period of time, but ice melts rather quickly in hot weather and should be replaced often. If you can manage it, you are much safer using a small portable refrigerator which operates off your car battery.

Here are some picnic safety pointers:

- If you want to include cooked foods in your meal and you prefer to do the cooking at home, freeze the food when it is done and keep it frozen. When you are ready to eat, heat it, preferably to 165 degrees.
- Make your sandwiches at the picnic site, not at home. Your safest choice for fillings are meat products, chicken and meat salads, provided they have been kept in the original, unopened, vacuum-packed jar or can. Be sure to check the label to make sure that the contents do not require refrigeration.
- Include fresh fruits and vegetables in your picnic menu. Wash them before leaving home.
- Bring your own drinking water.
- Protect your food from flies and other contamination.
- Don't let anyone with sores, cuts or boils prepare the food.

If someone in your group does develop food infection, it will probably first manifest itself by abdominal discomfort, diarrhea, headache, chills and fever. If the onset is fairly rapid (within two hours after eating), it may help to try to get the victim to vomit by sticking a finger down his throat or having him drink a mixture of mustard and lukewarm water. If the illness does not develop until later (and it may be as long as 72 hours after eating the infected food), induced vomiting will not help. It is important to get the victim to a doctor as soon as possible since persistent vomiting and diarrhea can cause dehydration, and shock may develop.

Picnics need not be spoiled by such disasters. Keep them simple, and the chances are that they will be safe.

Dear Santa

Pumpkin time isn't even here but already some youngsters are thinking about Christmas.

A reason we know is that the first letter to Santa Claus came this week, a mere five months early.

Each year youngsters write letters to Santa making their requirements known. They are delivered to us and we print them.

Santa Claus is a subscriber to the newspaper and while he rests from making toys he reads what youngsters write about.

Usually, letters sart arriving at the newspaper office about Thanksgiving.

This week's letter:

Dear Santa Claus:

Would you please give me a two-wheeler bike, a wagon and a real doggie and a few more presents.

Love, Kerrie
Lemon Grove

(Note to Santa. Kerrie has been good. He is good enough to get all the things he asks for. We'll remind you again in December.

Your helper, the Editor)

Giant Salad Tossed Thurs. In Fashion Valley Bowl

Take 13⅓ dozen avocados, 40 dozen oranges, 17½ pounds of raisins and 23 pounds of toasted almonds, toss with 500 heads of lettuce and mixed greens and what you've got is the biggest salad ever made in San Dieo.

"Carnation City Salad" was created especially for the city of San Diego by home economists, in honor of "America's Finest City Week," August 17-23.

Originally developed as a recipe for the family, Carnation City Salad will be prepared for visitors to the Fashion Valley shopping center Thursday, August 21 at noon. Samples will be served free to the public — servings will number in the hundreds.

A "home-size" recipe will be distributed for salad enthusiasts who want a smaller portion of the special salad.

The giant Carnation City Salad, in addition to the above ingredients, will include a dressing of 3⅓ gallons of vinegar, 6-2/3 gallons of salad oil, 1¼ gallons of orange juice, 3⅓ cups of sugar and ½ cup ginger.

August is Month for Sunshine Sicknesses

It really matters little whether you're on the sunny side of the sreet or not, as Old Sol's rays can affect you one way or another.

"August is a specially high incidence month for both sunstroke and heat exhaustion," Herbert Moreland, vice president - claims, Combined Insurance Company of America, recently informed his department during a monthly meeting.

Dr. David Goldfinger, Combined's medical consultant for claims, noted that persons over 35 are especially susceptible to these very serious heat effects.

"Sunstroke occurs from direct exposure to the sun's rays and is characterized by high body temperatures, a flushed face, headaches, dizziness, a pounding pulse and hot, dry skin," said the doctor.

"If you suspect a person to be the victim of a sunstroke, immediately call a doctor. Then, place the patient in a cool shaded area with back and shoulders raised. Undress them down to their underwear and immediately place cold water cloths, rags, etc., on the person's head and body to cool them down. Keep changing the cold cloths," he added.

"Heat exhaustion is just that," continued the doctor. "The victim feels exhausted, the face become pale and a cold sweat might break out. Also, the pulse becomes rapid but feeble and breathing becomes shallow."

"Treatment for heat exhaustion is complete rest in a cool place, plus either a small amount of stimulant or by sipping a glass of water with a teaspoon of salt added to it," he said.

"Death does not follow heat exhaustion as often as it does in sunstroke," concluded Dr. Goldfinger.

Booklet Helps Women Enter State Gov't

The California Commission on the Status of Women has announced the availability of a publication entitled State of California Major Boards and Commissions, an Informational Listing.

The Commission has prepared the information to facilitate full participation by women in state government.

Pamela Faust, executive director of the Commission states, "We hope that the publication will be of use to individuals and to groups who are seeking possibilities for active citizenship. We urge readers to make their expertise known."

The Commission on the Status of Women drafted and sponsored AB 3094 which required a public registry of all state boards and commissions. The new law became effective January 1.

"In developing this legislation the Commission was seeking a way to draw upon a largely untapped reservoir of talent, the women of California. The Commission is a strong advocate of the full participation of women in society, and most particularly government, where their expertise has been for the most unused," commented Faust.

The publication is available at a cost of $1.25 from the State of California Documents Section, P.O. Box 20191, Sacramento, CA 95820.

HOME-COOKED This Week's RECIPE

Beef Heroes — And Don't Forget the Ale

Inexpensive and informal entertainment is in. People have re-discovered good ol' fashioned at home get-togethers. This type of self-entertainment is what made coffee houses and English pubs so famous. This, and good food — substantial fare like helfty beef sandwiches and a glass of ale.

The same congenial atmosphere can be duplicated in your own home with informality. Resurrect the board games stashed in the attic or break out the cards and prepare the fixin's for Mini Beef Heroes.

MINI BEEF HEROES

- 1 lb. thin wafer-sliced chip steak or bologna
- 4 tbsp. butter or margarine
- ½ cup sliced onion
- 1 can condensed bean with bacon soup
- 1 can (4½ oz.) taco sauce
- 2 tbsp. sweet pickle relish
- 8 long hard rolls, slit and toasted
- Chopped fresh tomatoes
- Green pepper rings
- Shredded process cheese
- Sliced ripe olives

In skillet, brown steak in 2 tablespoons butter. Meanwhile, in saucepan, cook onion in remaining butter. Stir in soup; gradually add taco sauce and relish. Heat; stir occasionally. Spread on rolls; top with meat. Garnish with remaining ingredients. Makes 8 sandwiches, about 2 cups sauce.

Animal News Teaches Nutrition to Children

If you're having trouble teaching your children the importance of eating a balanced diet, maybe you could use some help from a horse, a lamb, a cow and a goose.

Fred the Horse Who Likes Bread, Mary Mutton, Molly Moo and Gussie Goose are the animals in Good Food News for Kids, a publication from the Department of Agriculture, that can teach your children about nutrition. The animals are featured in four booklets which use games and stories to introduce kids to the four basic food groups.

Booklets are available free from Consumer Information, Dept. 41, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Health Lecture Open to Public

The public is invited to hear the noted California physician on survival, Dr. H. Rudolph Alsleben, at a free health lecture Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Town & Country Hotel, San Diego.

Dr. Alsleben, who heads the International Health Institute in Anaheim, Calif., will tell "How to Survive the New Health Catastrophes." He is the author of a similarly-titled book.

On the program will be a nutrition scientist, Dale Alexander, author of "Good Health & Common Sense." He will discuss slowing the aging process.

According to Dr. Alsleben, who is a graduate of Kansas City College of Osteopathy & Surgery and of the California College of Medicine, the four major health catastrophes today are: 1) heavy metal poisoning 2) arteriosclerosis 3) infection and 4) malnutrition. He maintains that these catastrophes most often go undetected until they have caused damage.

"Preventive medicine," he says, "is the only answer. Perhaps 'survival medicine' is a more appropriate term. Nonetheless, it is imperative that we get to early detection of these catastrophes with a combination of medical, spiritual, manipulative and nutritional prescriptions and techniques."

S.V. Man Wins Rent-a-Race

MARA Street-Stock racers return to South Bay Park Speedway Saturday night, over 40 cars strong with the tightest point battle since early June shaping up.

Following a first-time win Saturday night, Chula Vista's Ted Johnson has moved to within 40 points of '75 season leader Don Hicks of Jamul. Johnson got his points mostly in qualifying contests.

The Saturday night programs get underway with the Trophy Dash at 8 p.m. preceeded by the Time Trials at 7 p.m.

This week in addition to the Claimer Street Racers and Rent-A-Racers, the sponsors and mechanics will get their turn in a feature to follow the Street-Stock 30 Lap Main Event.

In the Claimer Stock division last Saturday night, Harold Jackson of Spring Valley became the first victor driving a Rent-A-Racer car, as a new high of 12 of the Claimers and Rental cars went postward in three slam bang heats. Just two weeks ago, Jackson rented one of the J & J Auto Dismantling cars for the rest of the season!

'Most Memorable' Incidents Wanted

A two-month long poll aimed at fans of the San Diego Padres is now underway to name the Most Memorable Moment and Most Memorable Personality in the club's short history.

The poll is being conducted in conjunction with plans set for next season when the nation's Bicentennial and the centennial of the National League will be celebrated. The final results will be made public at the All-Star Game next July in Philadelphia.

The voting will take place locally from the first week in August through October 1. Fans may vote as many times as they wish by writing to: Memorable Moments, San Diego Padres, P.O. Box 2000, San Diego, California 92120.

Listed below are some starter suggestions for the Most Memorable Moment in the club's history, but fans are certainly not limited to the list. As for the Most Memorable Personality, fans may pick anyone connected with the team.

Padres Put Wraps On Eastern Finale

The San Diego Padres will be putting the wraps on their final swing through the Eastern Division of the National League in the next few days as the club takes on the charging Philadelphia Phillies and the Montreal Expos.

San Diego, which is scheduled to return home on August 22 for the beginning of an 11-game homestand to round out the month, will take on the Phillies Friday, Saturday and Sunday — then compete the road swing August 18-20 against the Expos in Montreal. The opening date of the series with Montreal will be a doubleheader caused by a rain out during the Padres first Canadian visit of the season.

"The two upcoming series with the Phillies should prove to be quite interesting," manager John McNamara said. "Even though we are not in the thick of a pennant race in the Western Division, we are in a fight for the number two spot. The Phillies, on the other hand are still trying to catch Pittsburgh for the lead in the East.

"So, the series will boil down to seven (four here in San Diego at the end of August) important games for both clubs with neither one of us in any kind of position to afford losing the series."

Philadelphia has been particularly tough on the Padres thus far in the five meetings to date, but the personnel of both clubs has undergone considerable changes so that the past track record maybe doesn't mean as much in reality as it does on paper.

"The Montreal series will be a tough one for us due to the fact we'll have to travel up to Montreal late Sunday and then come right back Monday with that doubleheader," explained the Padres skipper.

"Of course, it wouldn't be as tough as having to go to Montreal on Monday morning, but we will be in for a tiring two-day period. I know one thing," McNamara continued, "and that is we can't afford to play a long extra inning game on that get-away day in Philly or we will have transportation problems."

Lifeguard Relays Set for August 22

The relays will be held at the foot of Grand avenue in Pacific Beach and will start at 5:30 p.m. A mass rescue demonstration will be held at 5 p.m. The event is co-sponsored by Mission Bay Associates and San Diego Surf Lifesaving Association.

He played in the National Invitational Tournament in 1973.

Burrell was captain during his senior year at USC, averaging 10.6 points per game and 4 rebounds per game. He had 101 assists during the season with a 44% shooting average.

On October 15th, Bill Walton will make his San Diego debut as a professional, when the Portland Trail Blazers of the NBA play the San Diego Sails at the San Diego Sports Arena.

It will be Walton's first appearance in San Diego since graduating from Helix High school. He was one of the most sought-after college players following an illustrious All American career at UCLA.

In his freshman professional season last year, Walton was injured most of the year.

Adrian Romero Featured at Sunday Corrida

Matador Adrian Romero heads the card for Sunday at the bullring by the sea, Plaza Monumental de Tijuana.

Romero, 25, of Mexico City teams with Jesus Solorzano Jr. and young Carlos Serrano (El Voluntario) to face bulls of Las Huertas.

The daring Romero, artistic and courageous, has been one of the top award-winners ever since his border debut in 1971. Few toreros have achieved as many triumphs at Tijuana in so short a time.

Using extensive variety with cape and muleta, and thrilling the fans with his placements of banderillas, Romero has won 13 ears and two tails from 28 bulls at Tijuana in 14 corridas.

His best Tijuana seasons have been 1971 and 1974. He made his debut on June 20, 1971 competing with Matinez and Jose Ramon Tirado. He won an ear from his foe of Cerro Viejo.

After going without awards in his next outing, Romero won two ears from a bull in each of his succeeding three bullfights. One of those was the Golden Sword Corrida for stars of the season, and Romero won the sword by earning two ears from his opponent.

This season in three Tijuana outings he has been superb with cape, banderilla, and muleta. But he has experienced bad luck too. On May 25, for instance, he was gored in the righ thigh while placing short banderillas.

32 Funny Cars On OCIR Event

Orange County International Raceway will celebrate its 8th Anniversary Saturday with a 32 Funny Car program.

O.C.I.R., still recognized as one of the finest drag race facilities in the nation, opened its gates for the first time in August, 1967 and has continually produced some of drag racing's finest entertainment moments throughout the years.

This anniversary event should prove no exception, as 32 nerve-shattering Funny Cars will answer the 7 p.m. first round call, including the first appearance this year of colorful "Jungle" Jim Liberman.

The spectacular "Jungle Jim" will interrupt his busy summer schedule to make the anniversary race and will be joined by the rare mid-summer appearances of many eastern Funny Car stars, including South Carolina's "Fearless" Fred Goeske; Michigan's Roger Lindamood; Texas' "Flash" Gordon Mineo; Chicago's Stone, Woods and Cook; Missouri's Radici and Wise; Arizona's "Sundance", plus local Funny Car "heavyweights" Pisano and Matsubara, national record holder Dale Pulde, and dozens more.

All 32 Funny Cars will race side by side in 3 rounds of action, plus a special fast-round burnout contest where the spectators will vote for the longest burnout and 1000 Revell "Jungle Jim" models will be given away absolutely free.

Antique Watch Stolen

An antique pocket watch was taken from the residence of James R. Engelhardt of 7115 Central ave., Lemon Grove on July 31, he told sheriff's deputies.

The thief passed up other valuables taking only the watch, police were told.

He entered the premises by way of an unlocked window while Engelhardt was at work.

The watch is valued at $100 and has the initials JRE engraved inside the back of the case.

Chargers Try Giants Sat.

The Chargers lost its preseason opener to the Chicago Bears, 22-0.

The New York Giants whipped the New England Patriots 28-14.

The Chargers meet the Giants Saturday night in the Stadium at 8 p.m.

It doesn't look good for the home team!

However, Charger coach Tommy Prothro is satisfied with his team. He said earlier this week that he wanted to look at his new players — and he liked what he saw.

Rookie Sparkles

One rookie, a free agent from San Diego State, Dwight McDonald made an impressive debut Saturday night despite the Chargers' 22-0 loss.

He was the only rookie to crack the starting offensive lineup and he received an ovation when introduced to the 30,497 at San Diego Stadium. He instantly took up where he left off as the nation's leading college receiver with 86 catches in 1974.

On the game's first play, McDonald caught a 15-yard pass from Dan Fouts.

"I was nervous before the game," he said. "But that first pass took away the jitters."

McDonald ended the night as the Chargers' leading receiver with three catches for 36 yards. One of his catches was a one-handed sparkler. One other ball was overthrown to him.

At Local Schools

The former star at Kearny High School, San Diego City College, USIU and San Diego State, McDonald wants for all time to put to rest "the bad rap that I am not fast. I'll be happy to pick up 13 to 15 yards a catch. That's my game. But I can go deep."

Charger owner Gene Klein joined the chorus of San Diego disbelievers at the failure of the pros to give a draft notice to McDonald.

"It's incredible," said Klein. "We all supposedly have the best scouts and best information and here's a young man who catches 86 passes and is not drafted. It's incredible."

The Chargers last year got lucky with an unsung rookie, Don Woods. They are hoping that 1975 is the year of Dwight McDonald.

Giants Are Better

In their second year under coach Bill Arnsparger, the Giants are much improved.

Craig Morton, acquired from Dallas midway in 1974, is a top flight quarterback. He has several good receivers in tight end Bob Tucker, former Charger Walker Gillette, Bob Grim and speedburners Don Clune and rookie Danny Buggs. With two 1,000-yard seasons, Ron Johnson heads the ground crew of Joe Dawkins, Larry Watkins, Doug Kotar and Leon McQuay.

Arnsparger was the architect of Miami's "no-name" defense. His New York bigger names are end Jack Greory, tackle John Mendenhall and safety Spider Lockhart.

New York won the only NFL game between the teams 35-17, at Yankee Stadium in 1971. The teams have split in preseason — the Chargers, 30-27, in 1970; the Giants, 28-3, in 1973.

Andy Musser and Dick Van Raaphorst broadcast the game on KSDO (1130) and the Charger network. Mike Smith and Dave Campbell announce the KCST-39 tape replay telecast Sunday at 5 p.m.

Game Thursday

The Chargers will face the San Francisco 49ers at San Diego Stadium on Thursday night, August 21, in the first Leadership Club youth benefit game.

The Chargers are donating $1 for every ticket sold up to 30,000 and $2 above 30,000 to the Big Brothers, Boys Clubs, Girls Club and Neighborhood House.

A Pops Concert by the San Diego Symphony with Charles Ketcham conducting and a fireworks show after the game are added attractions.

If the Chargers win, ticket stubs will be redeemed for a Big Mac hamburger at McDonalds.

Game Buses

S.D. Transit buses will leave for the Chargers-Giants game starting at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Buses may be boarded at the College Grove or the Grossmont shopping centers.

The fare is 50 cents each way. Buses return immediately after the game.

Actor Trail Boss Of Estates Ride

SAN DIEGO COUNTRY ESTATES — Casey Tibbs' recent Bicentennial Trail Ride with President Ford's son Steve as Trail Boss was such a tremendous success that Tibbs has agreed to an encore ride from San Diego Country Estates, August 30-September 1.

Actor James Caan, a member of the Rodeo Cowboys Assn., will be Trail Boss on the upcoming three-day ride which will include entertainment by the Sons of the Pioneers.

Tibbs, director of Western Activities at the resort community northeast of San Diego, says the ride is open to cowboys, cowgirls and cowkids who are experienced riders. The earlier Bicentennial Ride was for "Dons" only, drawing demands for equal rights from distaff riders.

Activities will get underway Saturday morning with Casey's Chuck Wagon Breakfast at the Western Equestrian Center at the Estates. From there, Tibbs and Caan will guide riders through the historic San Vicente Valley along the old Chester Gunn Pony Express Trail, across the Cleveland National Forest to Cedar Falls Lake on the Barona Indian Reservation.

Sunday Round-Up

Sunday morning, wranglers and riders will roundup lost Texas Longhorn cattle and attempt to recover the rope Slim Pickens left on a Longhorn that got away during the Bicentennial Ride.

Riders will return to the Western Equestrian Center Sunday evening for a western celebration featuring music by the Sons of the Pioneers, square dancing by the Chula Vista Dancers and Ramona Squares and sharpshooting by Eldon Carl, national pistol champion. Sgt. Carl is assigned to the Sheriff's Lemon Grove Office. Chef Bill Rodman of Ramona will put on a mouth-watering barbeque. Sunday evening activities in the rodeo ring will include jackpot team roping, one of Caan's favorite rodeo events.

Public Invited

Tibbs said the public is invited to join in the Saturday evening festivities. Cost of the barbeque is $3.50 per person.

Tibbs, who was two-time all-around world champion cowboy and winner of nine individual Rodeo Cowboys Association titles, will direct bulldogging and calf roping activities early Monday morning. Open trial riding is planned for the balance of the day.

Trail fees, including seven meals, refreshment stops, qualified wranglers and guides, food for horses and entertainment are $100 per person. Riders should bring their own mounts and bedrolls. A limited number of horses is available at $25 additional charge.

Reservations may be made by sending check or money order by August 19 to Casey Tibbs, San Diego Country Estates, Ca. 92065.

Generator Stolen

Christopher Hartsough told sheriff's deputies on August 4 that his bus, which he had left in a fenced lot at 455 Sweetwater rd., Spring Valley had been burglarized.

The loss was the vehicle's 350 lb., 600 watt generator.

The generator carries the band name "Onan" and is worth $2,000, he said.

Alesi Family: They're Big in Off-Road Racing

Lemon Grove's own off-road racing team members Mario Alesi, with his father Peter, 52 as co-driver, are sure favorites to capture a win at SCORE's "AC-Delco World Championships" of off-road racing to be held September 5-7 at Riverside International Raceway.

Mario, a 24-year-old Broadway plumbing contractor, recently won the Mini-Pick Up Class for the second straight year at SCORE's "AC-Delco Baja Internacional" with his dad as co-driver.

Younger brother Anthony, 19, will also compete in the World Championships. He will ride a Honda Elsinore 250 in motorcycle competition during the three days of spectacular off-roading.

While off-roading for the Alesis is an exciting and challenging hobby, it also has its drawbacks. At the Baja race, Mario and Peter Sr. were whizzing along when they came upon a downed bike rider . . . It was Peter Jr., 20, who had suffered a fall and leg injury. They stopped, gave him first aid and sent out a "Mayday" message on their radio. Mayday is the international distress call.

Mario Alesi

'I'm OK'

Though in pain, Peter said, "I'm okay dad, you and Mario have a chance to win. Go on, please go on. Help will come for me." Noting he was not alone as another downed vehicle was nearby, it was with mixed emotions they were able to leave him and push on to the victory that was to be theirs.

At Baja Peter, Jr. and Anthony were co-riders. But at Riverside Anthony will tackle the gruelling 3½ mile course as a solo rider.

Family Affair

Off-roading is definitely a family affair for the Alesis as everyone in the family is seriously involved. Mario's wife Diane, mother Rita and sister Sandra K. Cirello serve as pit crew and number one rooters for their team.

Mario said, "Off-road racing is a togetherness and sharing that is hard to beat." The fact that it is a family affair for the Alesis makes it special to them. But their enthusiasm is shared by many and it is not uncommon to see a gallery of fans on hand to cheer their favorites to victory.

SCORE's "AC-Delco World Championships" is definitely toward the spectator public. All of the rough tumble action takes place in full view of grandstand seating as the more than 300 competitors race for a combined purse and contingency money amounting to $182,500.

Tickets for the Riverside sports classic are available through Ticketron or at the raceway gate. Available is an all-inclusive three-day ticket for the Friday practice races, the qualifying for starting position runs on Saturday and the special new Class Eleven race that night, plus all of the Sunday races. Campsites are provided free with this ticket.

There is also a Sunday only ticket.

Dates Set For Poway Horse Show

More than 1,000 horses are expected to be registered in the 13th Annual National Horse Show in Poway August 30, 31 and September 1.

The three day show will be filmed in part by Winner Circle Films of Hollywood and become part of a documentary "Run for the Blue" to be released in the Spring of 1976.

Trophies, ribbons and $2,000 in prize money will go to event winners.

The all-girl PVRA Mounted Drill Team will perform each day during lunch breaks. Premium lists and entry forms can be obtained from the show chairman, Mrs. Betsy Bowers, 13817 Terrilee dr., Poway 92064 or by phone: 1-714-748-0234. Entries close August 20. Post entries will be accepted at the show with penalty charge.

The show grounds are at 14336 Tierra Bonita rd., Poway.

Duck Artists Get USF&W Call

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is again seeking wildlife art to adorn next year's Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp, and it might well be that the winning design could come off the easel of some East County wildlife artist.

This is the belief of William Simmons, Jr., La Mesa sportsman and chairman of the San Diego Ducks Unlimited chapter, now planning the 32nd annual DU fund-raising dinner party October 2 at Vacation Village Convention Center.

Simmons claims there is no dearth of fine talent here, and he urged local individuals to enter competition to bring fame to themselves and the city. Most past winners are from eastern and midwestern states.

The popular Duck Stamp must be carried by every migratory waterfowl hunter over 16 years of age. Revenues are used to acquire additional migratory bird refuges.

Stamps have been issued annually since 1934, and early issues are now worth many times their face value to philatelists.

Special artists were commissioned to prepare early stamps. Since 1949, the design has been picked by judges in a contest open to artists who are residents or citizens of the U. S.

While the government offers no prizes, the prestige of winning brings overnight financial reward and immediate acclaim.

Commercial art dealers are anxious to market limited edition reprints of the winner's design. For rules and entry forms, write Audio Visual Office, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D.C. 20240. Deadline is October 15.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Damon Runyon said it this way. "The race is not always to the swift, nor the battle to the strong — but that's the way to bet."

And betting, according to writer Arthur "Bugs" Baer, is pretty much like liquor: you can make it illegal, but you can never make it unpopular.

From the looks of things coming, you'd have to bet that betting is going to be bigger, more popular, legal and certainly more rewarding in the not too distant days ahead.

The Golden State Greyhound Assn., under the sharp reign of its president George Hardie, is undertaking a petition drive and referendum bid to make greyhound racing legal in California.

And as things stand now, they've got all the right people against them. An therein lies the tale.

Hardie and his supporters took the issue to Sacramento and the State Assembly but the horse lobby was able to muster enough strength to knock out the greyhound bid 5-4 in committee. Charges of undue pressure by the horse crowd filled the air with purple punctuation during and immediately following the deliberations.

There is a certain logical explanation for such conflict. The horse people own a monopoly on legal wagering in California and they can be expected to do all in their power to keep things that way.

From their point of view, there's just so many betting bucks and they don't want to share them. That is certainly an understandable, position, however narrow the view.

No one knows what it cost horse folks to kill the dog bill, but the ironic truth is, the defeat may have been a boon to greyhound racng fans, senior citizens, child care centers and high school jocks of both sexes.

Because now Hardie has to take the issue to the people. And in the doing, voters get a much bigger say in where the wagering revenue goes than if the original bill had been passed and assessed in the Assembly.

Horse racing revenue, for instance, goes into the general coffers, just like the tax dollars they are. Not so with referendum revenues.

By going directly to the people Hardie and his associates have the right to select just where their slice of the melon will be served. And such recipients will be part of the law the people enact when they vote to return the "Sport of Queens" to California.

Hardie's play will send some of the proceeds to Senior Citizens, and some to child care centers. And there will be scholarships for Vietnam veterans' families.

But the most important chunk of the cake will go to cover high school athletics throughout the state.

The finite form of the measure is not yet complete, but Hardie is committed to financially supporting athletic programs for both boys and girls in all California public high schools. In addition, a program is being developed to provide financial support for coed athletics in non-public high schools.

In actual dollars, Hardie announced each high school would receive somewhere between $7,000 and $8,000 per year once dog racing is voted in.

His only restriction is that the money must be used for both boys and girls athletic programs.

Assemblyman Bob Wilson of La Mesa said he was "unequivocally" behind the bill. County Supervisor Lou Conde pledged his support. Both move with good reason.

The measure, once passed, will bring 10,000 new jobs, new construction, and an annual payroll of nearly $60 million into being.

In addition to providing for high school athletics, it can honestly be expected that property taxes will go down and state income taxes reduced when the greyhounds start running that revenue into city, county and state coffers.

So get with it, guys and girls. When that greyhound racing petition comes around, sign up and get the hounds on the ballot.

Vote YES for the future of kids everywhere. You'll be glad you did. Those who give their support to dogs and kids have a lot going for them.

Del Mar Oaks Tops Week Of Thoroughbred Racing

The championship-determining race of the summer season for three-year-old fillies, the 19th running of the $30,000-added Del Mar Oaks, will climax the fourth full week of Thoroughbred action at the seaside course Sunday.

Always one of the best events on the Del Mar stakes schedule, the 1975 renewal of the prestigious Oaks promises to be an especially interesting one with many of the West's outstanding fillies ready for the mile and one-eighth turf contest.

Trainers Tommy Doyle and Joe Dunn each will have two formidable entrants in the Oaks. Doyle will send out Miss Francesca and Princess Papulee, while Dunn's hopefuls are Nicosia and Cut Glass.

Miss Francesca, a daughter of Raise a Native, and Princess Papulee, by Hawaii, shared honors in divisions of the recent San Clemente Stakes, prelude to the Del Mar Oaks. Miss Francesca won her division easily, while Princess Papulee was awarded victory when Mia Amore was disqualified and placed second for causing stretch interference.

Nicosia, a well-traveled filly by Gallant Romeo, has won stakes in both New York and California, most recently capturing the Hollywood Oaks at Hollywood Park. Her stablemate, Cut Class, a daughter of former Horse of the Year Arts and Letters, demonstrated a return to her best form when she won an allowance affair on the grass last Thursday.

Demolition Derby Tops Cajon Card

It should be called "anything goes" at Cajon Speedway Saturday.

A demolition derby, featuring 20 machines from the freeway wars, and a Muscular Dystrophy benefit disco jockey exhibition race have been added to the regular super stock car show which weekly furnishes its share of excitement.

Time trials start at 6:30 and the trophy dash for the four fastest qualifiers will begin at 8.

The crash, bang and crunch derby had a long waiting list of drivers who seem to enjoy sending cars to the final wrecking yard in the sky.

The disc jockeys, headed by Shotgun Kelly, will be from radio station KCBQ. Others involved in the race include Bill Moffett, Jay Stone, Kevin Shira, Dick Young and Paul the Greek. The latter jockey has had more experience, though, having driven the pace car all season.

Meanwhile, Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley and Tim Biggers of El Cajon will continue their personal war for the 1975 El Cajon Stock Car Racing Assn. championship. McIntyre however, will have a repair job to do on his Camaro, damaged in a semi-main race crash with Larry Lyon last week.

Biggers who won his fourth main event of the season, moved to within 125 points of the leader, McIntyre who finished in the top four in 11 of the last 16 races while Biggers made it six times.

Ali-Frazier Fight Income Looks Good

The Muhammad Ali-Joe Frazier heavyweight championship fight scheduled to be screened on closed circuit television at the Sports Arena on September 30, has already amassed $7 million in advance guarantees from exhibitors buying the television rights.

Approximately 5,000 are expected to view the fight in San Diego.

Week-Long ATA Championships To Star Black Celebrities

Notables of the entertainment and sports worlds will compete for championship trophies in celebrity matches preceeding the 58th American Tennis Association's National Championships on August 17-23 in San Diego at Morley Field in Balboa Park.

The celebrity tennis tournament which will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. will include such stars as Willie Mays, Aretha Franklin, Richard Roundtree, Oscar Robertson, Denise Nicolas, special guest Stevie Wonder, Congresswoman Yvonne Braithwaite Burke, Fred Williamson, Lola Falana, Eartha Kitt, Pam Grier, Jim Kelly, Freda Payne, Reggie Smith.

The week long ATA tournament will represent one of the largest tennis tournaments ever held in the San Diego area. It will be co-sponsored by American Airlines, Jet Magazines, Mountain View Tennis Club of San Diego and participating Pacific Coast Clubs in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Over two thousand participants from across the nation are expected to play in the week long tournament. This will be the first time the ATA has held a national tournament on the west coast.

The tournament will have thirteen adult events and a junior division. Play will take place at City College, Morley Field in Balboa Park and Martin Luther King Park. All junior events will be held at San Diego State University.

The American Tennis Association was founded in 1916 in Washington D.C. to provide an opportunity for black tennis players to participate in organized and competitive tennis. Tennis greats Arthur Ashe and Althea Gibson are products of the American Tennis Association.

Nightly entertainment will be provided throughout the week by local tennis clubs, businesses and Mountain View Tennis Club. Organist, Jimmy Smith, will lead off at the Night With The Stars, Sunday, with Herb Jeffries as master of ceremonies.

Breakers Meet L.A. Friday; Sign Riffero

With Wilt Chamberlain's game out of the way, the Breakers return to action Friday night at the Sports Arena at 8 p.m. against the Santa Barbara Spikers.

The Spikers, virtually out of contention for the league banner with a 9-10 record, will attempt to even their series with San Diego at three apiece.

Headed by the light-fingered Stanislaw Gosciniak, last season's MVP in the World Games, The Spikers have proven to be a thorn in the sides of the Breakers, and Friday's contest should be no different.

Last week, before a record IVA attendance count of 5,759, the Spikers laid back and played dead to the localities, being up-ended 3-1. Larry, "The Boomer" Milliken was devastating, garnering 31 kills and 53 spikes while Roseanne Wegrich continued her defensive tactics into a potent force for the Breakers.

Los Angeles

In what could prove to be the turning point for the IVA lead, Jon Stanley and the L.A. Stars trek into the Sports Arena for a shot at the league lead. First serve is at 7 p.m. From then on, the Breakers and Stars meet net to net for the top spot in the pro co-ed volleyball confederation. Stanley, 6-6, Peter Stefaniuk, 6-9 and John Alstrom, 6-6, have embarrassed Coach Rudy Suwara's sixsome three times.

Riffero Joins Breakers

San Diego recently added former All-American Rich Riffero to the Breaker roster and released Bob Hogan. Riffero from UCSB was a member of the 1972 US National team. During the play-offs that year, the newest Breaker "handled" Jon Stanley of the LA Stars with apparent ease, blocking him 10 times in a row.

Booster Club

The Breakers have formed a booster club, with 432 official members signed up. A contest was held to name the club, with "THE SIDE-OUT CLUB" winning the honors. Bruce Tucker submitted the winning name.

30 Billion

Thirty billion checks were handled by banks last year.

The Land of the Free didn't come cheap.

Even before we had a formal constitution, investors were asked to buy over $27,000,000 in securities to provide the arms we needed. And to provide the money to rebuild.

That was just the beginning. Through war and peace, the good years and the bad, Americans have always given freely. Millions invested their money. Many invested their lives.

We've never stopped fighting for freedom. For the American way of life.

Today, over 9½ million Americans buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Fewer Jobless, Smaller Labor Force Leave 10.1% Out of Work

Number of California job-seekers was 983,400 in July — down by 37,800 from the record high of 1,021,200 in June. But total employment was also down, resulting in a net rise in the seasonally-adjusted unemployment rate, from 9.9 per cent to 10.1 per cent. Statistics were released last week by the state's Employment Development Department.

Total employment fell from 8,595,000 to 8,534,800 — a drop of 60,200 jobs over the month.

By comparison, in the same month last year, the number employed was 8,620,000, unemployment totaled 691,100 and the unemployment rate was 7.3 percent.

The largest decline in employment between June and July occurred in the education group, where 76,800 noncontract school personnel were laid off for the summer recess. However, total employment in education at 653,200 was still above the 625,100 recorded in July, 1974.

Fewer on Farms

Agricultural employment was down by 11,300 jobs to 329,000 but this was still 13,400 higher than in the same month last year.

Employment in the manufacturing group was down by 6,300 jobs to 1,570,400, bringing the total decline in manufacturing to 139,200 jobs over the year since last July.

The large trade group was relatively unchanged over the month, declining by only 300 jobs to 1,776,700 in July. The other large groups, those employed in the services industries, was also relatively unchanged, dropping by only 1,300 jobs to 1,584,400 in July. This was 27,600 more jobs in the services group than in the same month last year.

The construction industry was down by 600 jobs to a July total of 296,900. This was 22,400 above the July 1974 level but at that time a large trade dispute had reduced total employment in the industry.

Offsetting these declines were small increases in other industries. The transportation and utilities group was up by 4,300 jobs to 472,900 and the finance, insurance and real estate group was up by 3,300 to 446,100.

Forbes, Wetherell Assume New Posts With S.D. Estates

Arthur Forbes, well-known Southern California hotel man, has been named general manager of resort operations at San Diego Country Estates, and Lew Wetherell, tennis star of the '30s and '40s and former holder of four national tennis championships, has been named general manager of the San Vicente Racquet Club at S.D. Country Estates, according to developer Ray A. Watt.

Forbes will be responsible for operating the Resort Lodge and Villas, executive conference center, and resort amenities including the San Vicente Country Club with 18-hole golf course, tennis courts and swimming pools.

Forbes managed Clint Murchison's Del Charro Hotel in La Jolla from opening day in 1954 until the hotel closed in 1974. As operator of the "Dallas-by-the-Sea," resort, Forbes became acquainted with Murchison's friends including J. Edgar Hoover, who for many years vacationed at Del Charro during the Del Mar Racing season.

From the Del Charro, Forbes became manager of Murchison's Harvest House and its adjacent shopping center and 150-room hotel in Boulder, Colorado.

Wetherell was tennis director of Ironwood Country Club in Palm Desert last year and was formerly manager of the Palm Springs Racquet Club and pro at the Beverly Hills Tennis Club.

In the '30s, Wetherell and partner Joe Hunt won the National Intercollegiate doubles and the National Clay Court Doubles. Wetherell also won the National Parks Singles championships. He was captain of the USC Tennis Team and graduated in 1938 from USC with a B.S. degree in Business Administration.

Armed Robber Nets 50 Cents

Betty Joan Hudson, of 938 Gillespie st., Spring Valley, stopped by a church at 9095 Jamacha rd. on Saturday, August 2 to ascertain the time of Sunday services.

A black male, about 15, weighing about 100 lbs. approached her car and said "Hey, mam, drop your purse!" He used a blue steel revolver to accent his demand.

When the victim claimed there was no money in her purse, he demanded that she lie on the floor of her car. Instead, she got up and ran screaming into the church.

The robber grabbed the purse and fled before help came.

The purse contained only credit cards and a check book and 50 cents in change.

Electricity Surcharge Rate Renewed for Year

The Electrical Energy Surcharge rate was set at one-tenth mill per kilowatt-hour by the State Board of Equalization recently, a continuation of the rate which has applied since the law went into effect on January 1.

Board Chairman John W. Lynch advised that under the law the rate must be set by the Board by August 1 each year at a rate from zero to two-tenths of a mill, graduated in hundreths of a mill increments.

The rate must fund the budget for the current year for the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission.

It is estimated that the first year's rate of one-tenth of a mill added approximately 8 cents per month to the average homeowner's utility bill.

Bad habits kill good people.

Too many pills. Too many drugs. Too many drinks. When they don't kill, they maim. The nervous system. The body chemistry. The emotions. And the mind.

The only way to make things better is to start getting sensible about ourselves. If you're taking prescription drugs, follow the prescription. If you're having trouble, see your doctor. If you drink, do it in moderation. And remember, even over-the-counter drugs can be addictive.

Many local health departments have treatment programs. And if you write to the address shown below, we'll send you a free directory of other helping agencies.

You see, bad habits kill good people. And we'd rather you weren't among them.

OES Advise—In Case of Quake, Don't Call Cops

The County Office of Emergency Services (OES) has issued a warning to avoid telephone calls in the event of an earthquake.

The potential danger was brought to light recently when quakes hit Coalinga and Oroville, Ca. Scores of phone calls swamped the police department after the Coalinga shock and the Oroville temblor triggered so many phone calls that the entire phone system was overloaded — especially the police department.

Ray Rapp, acting chief deputy director of the Unified San Diego County OES, urges residents not to call the police department but to turn on their radios for information following an earthquake.

"Policemen usually have no expertise on earthquakes — their job being law enforcement. They will have no more information than the caller," said Rapp. "Local radio stations will contact seismological stations and other information sources, giving official facts on a continuing basis."

In cases of personal injury or property damage caused by an earthquake, notify your local fire department for rescue. The cities of La Mesa and San Diego are exceptions where the police ambulances can be called in cases of injury.

Overloading phone lines can cause serious problems, not only with the police switchboard, but with the entire county during a disaster, OES warns.

Bus Safety Wk. Proclaimed by School Supt.

County Superintendent of Schools M. Ted Dixon has proclaimed the first week of September School Bus Safety Awareness Week to emphasize the return of thousands of students to the roadways for the new school year.

More than 60,000 kindergarten through high school students will be transported daily in 500 school buses that travel 6,500,000 miles per year between the students' homes and schools in San Diego County when the new school year starts.

Exhibits will be set up at major shopping centers in the area to discuss bus safety and safe driving practices.

Posse Takes Grass

A posse of Chamber of Commerce members met the evening of July 30 to confiscate a large quantity of grass.

Jim Dorman, Dell Lake, Olin Thompson and Bob and Glenda Jackson met at Broadway and Imperial to cut down a heavy growth of weeds near the SD&AE railroad tracks.

The shoulder-high eyesore, extending along the tracks from Lester ave. to Broadway, was removed and hauled away to the county dump.

Burglar's Loot $930

Items valued at $930 were stolen from the residence of Nicholas D. Scharbaum, an electrical engineer at 2541 Skyline dr., Lemon Grove on July 28.

He told sheriff's deputies that someone had entered through a high, rear window that had been kept unlocked to accommodate a ham radio cable. Gone were two guitars, a tape recorder, telescope, binoculars, camera and other items.

'Godspell' Ends Run September 7

Four final weeks of "Godspell" performances will conclude the summer long engagement at the Carter Centre Stage in Balboa Park. The Old Globe Theatre production of the international musical hit will end September 7 after 120 performances which began May 27.

Alternating between parodies, sight gags, pantomime and improvisation, the cast retells in contemporary terms parables according to St. Matthew. Musical variety and comedy are contrasted to the dramatic conclusion to "Godspell" which relates the final hours in the life of Christ.

Performances are nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m. plus Saturday and Sunday matinees at 2 p.m.

Sheriff John Duffy Looks at Dept. of Corrections Plan

by John F. Duffy, Sheriff

The creation of a Department of Corrections is not a leap forward in criminal justice, as Supervisors Walsh, Bates and Brown believe, but an outmoded, expensive, unsafe theory which has been an utter failure. Proponents who cite studies and reports to support a department of corrections are using theories and statistics which have lost all credibility.

Some of the arguments currently being used include the 1967 President's Commission of Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice's report which recommended transferring jails from law enforcement to correctional agencies to get more policemen back on the streets.

10 Years Old

Had they read the document carefully (we in law enforcement have) they would realize that (a) the data is at least ten years old, (b) the report was issued in the near-hysterical aftermath of the inner-city riots, (c) it referred to city jails run by police departments, not large county-wide facilities like ours, and (d) all city jails in San Diego County except Oceanside's (which is still waiting on the County Jail in Vista) have been closed and their responsibilities transferred to the County Jail.

A second argument is that a change in administration would bring college education in corrections to jail management, a staff of psychologists and "enlightened" jailers to our jail.

'Enlightened' Jailers

The August 4 issue of Newsweek gives a look at the Cook County (Illinois) Department of Corrections jail, whose director is a psychologist and which is widely known for its free flow of drugs, brutality, and sexual abuse by these "enlightened" jailers.

A third argument is that it is a "waste" of deputy sheriff's talent and training to use him in the jail, then move him out in the field, and move new deputies to replace him, while a "permanent" staff of correctional offices would remain there.

First of all, the training the deputies get in dealing directly with the inmates, (their thinking, values, and behavior) is of inestimatable value to the deputies when they return to the field. They must also remain aware that they must do a good job in order to progress in the ranks.

Secondly, correctional officers facing a lifelong career in such an atmosphere tend to lose their motivation and impartiality, and become old men at the same time if there is no opportunity for the influx of new personnel.

The Lorton Plan

A fourth argument is that an "enlightened" department of corrections would reduce the population in the jail. They are vague as to how this would be accomplished, but one of the more "enlightened" such institutions is the District of Columbia's Lorton, Va., facility which permits any prisoner well-behaved enough to move around without handcuffs or armed escort to roam the community several days a week, committing crimes while supposedly serving sentences — not even on probation.

The situation there is so "enlightened" that it is under investigation by federal grand juries in Northern Virginia and Washington, D.C.

A fifth argument supports wider use of honor camps, furlough centers, half-way houses, community cottages, and a host of other ill-defined programs. They overlook the fact that San Diego County's earlier experiment with such a program (the Department of Honor Camps) ended in scandal, firings, and demotions.

T hey also overlook the recent report "Struggle for Justice" issued by the American Friends Service Committee, the gentle Quaker organization which is a leader in prison reform.

More Probation??

The report concludes that "greater use of probation . . . indeterminate sentences, small 'cottage' institutions, halfway houses . . . this reformist prescription is bankrupt." So will you and I be if we plunge into such a costly, experimental, and highly questionable program.

Cost is an important factor. For years my pleas for more people to work the jail have fallen on deaf ears. With only 15 deputies in the jail per 8-hour shift, I have had to resort to extensive use of trusties to get the job done. Proponents of a department of corrections urge the abolishment of the trusty system, replacing them with paid employees. Proponents also state that college trained corrections specialists would replace deputy sheriffs in the jail, which indicates a higher cost.

As for who should run the jail, my position is that the people of San Diego County elected the sheriff to operate their jail. They have not indicated they wish to have this responsibility, for which they voted, removed and given to someone appointed and subject to the whims of the Board of Supervisors.

SC1stNat Bank Sale Approved

Shareholders of Southern California First National Corporation have approved the sale and transfer of all assets of the San Diego-based, one-bank holding company and its subsidiaries to The Bank of Tokyo of California for approximately $68 million.

The acquisition will result in a cash distribution of $18.50 per share for SCFNC stock outstanding on October 6 to shareholders of record on September 30, the anticipated closing date.

It also must be approved by shareholders of The Bank of Tokyo, at a special meeting scheduled for August 15, as well as several U. S. and Japanese regulatory authorities.

The $18.50 per share sale price is subject to contingencies which SCFNC President Richard T. Silberman characterized to shareholders as "highly unlikely" to occur.

As part of the transaction the legal entities, Southern California First National Corp. and its principal banking subsidiary, Southern California First National Bank, will be liquidated. The bank would be combined with The Bank of Tokyo of California under the name, California First Bank, Silberman said.

The combined bank would have approximately $2 billion in assets and operate a network of 100 branch offices statewide, he said.

Undersea Swim Set by Museum

A scientific, underwater swim through the shallow offshore waters of the La Jolla Cove is being sponsored by the San Diego Natural History Museum on Saturday.

Small groups will explore the underwater environment and observe interrelationship of plants and marine animals during an hour long swim through the intertidal area.

Participants must be competent swimmers and use face mask and fins. Parent approval forms are required for those under 18. Swimmers under 15 must be accompanied by a parent. Charge for the swim is $3. For reservations call the Museum's Activities Department, 232-3821.

Tool Chest Stolen

While James Henry Bradford, a painter, of 1905 Englewood dr., Lemon Grove, was asleep during the night hours, a thief entered his unlocked garage and took his tool chest with its contents which were valued at $500.

Various wrenches were among other tools in the loss.

Caltrans Begins 1 Year Freeze; Will Spend Less

Facing a year-long freeze on new state highway construction, the California Department of Transportation has suspended most new highway right-of-way purchases.

The unprecedented action, effective August 5 and lasting indefinitely, was taken because of the critical financial problems burdening the department.

Caltrans has announced that the State would not be contracting for new highway construction for a year or longer. The department's highway program ran into difficulty because of reduced gas tax revenue and increased road-building costs.

It is not known how long the right-of-way moratorium will last but it will affect a program originally budgeted for $52.1 million for fiscal 1975-76. Staff cutbacks in right-of-way and other areas are anticipated but the extent has not been determined.

Purchases involving 116 highway projects throughout the state during fiscal 1975-76 were expected before the cutback.

Public Utilities 13.8% Richer Here, State Board Says

An increase of 4.7 percent or $225,272,150 in the 1975 assessed value of the state's privately owned public utilities compared with 1974 was announced yesterday by State Board of Equalization Chairman John W. Lynch upon adoption of the 1975 assessment roll. The 1975 value is $5 billion. In 1974 it was $4.8 billion.

The values are tentative pending hearings and final assessments.

San Diego County's assessed value for privately owned public utilities was listed at $323,251,660, an increase of $39,220,770 over 1974 assessment. The increase — 13.8 per cent — was the second largest of all California counties assessed.

While six counties registered a decrease in assessments, the average change was a 4.7 per cent increase.

Three Rifles Taken

Three rifles valued at $450 were taken from the pickup truck of Robert LeRoy Ellis, a garage owner who lives at 3601 Hilltop dr., Lemon Grove.

He told sheriff's deputies that when he returned from camping last Thursday he left the rifles chained to a gun rack behind the seats. A broken wind wing prevented the vehicle from being locked, he said. He had removed all of his camping gear but left the guns overnight. In the morning the guns were gone but the broken lock and chain were left behind.

Burglar Nets $194

While Cynthia Louis Payne was away from her home at 7448 Daytona dr., Lemon Grove during the evening of July 30, a burglar entered her residence through a kitchen widow and took her purse.

Her purse contained items worth $194, she said, including two pairs of glasses, $24 in food stamps and $25 in cash.

Her I.D. cards, credit cards and check book were also in the purse.

Visitors Get Valuables

Witnesses described them as two white males, about 20, who entered her apartment on July 27 about 11 p.m. when she was out and took items she valued at $850.

Joann Clay, apartment manager of a complex at 1112 Jamacha lane, Spring Valley, said some of the missing items included a solid gold watch. Her medical card, drivers' license, check book and valid checks were also in the loot.

Senior Projects Money Available

The County's Office of Senior Citizens Affairs is accepting letters of intent from public and private non-profit agencies seeking seed money for programs serving senior citizens.

About $273,000 in surplus Title III monies have been made available on a one-time-only basis by the California State Office on Aging. Funds must be contracted between November 1, this year and January 29, 1976.

State guidelines require that money be used for non-recurring projects such as capital expenditures or continuing programs which include guaranteed commitments for continued funding. Letters should address senior priorities and state how funds will be used to supplement local community resources or monies provided through the Older Americans Act.

Priorities for funding include: 1) Equipment for nutrition sites; 2) New nutrition programs; 3) New senior centers; 4) Equipment for senior centers; 5) Dial-A-Ride programs; 6) Health-related programs; 7) Legal services; 8) Continuing education programs.

Letters of intent should be sent to the County's Office of Senior Citizens Affairs, 1955 4th st., San Diego, 92101, and received by that office by August 18, 1975.

Auto Thefts

been sent for extreme alcoholism.

Good, substantial family!

One of the suspects was picked up about midnight when he returned to his home. He admitted taking part in the Bargain Bin wreckage; the G&M market burglary and the Cuz Inn thievery, all of which were items in this newspaper over the past several weeks.

In and Out

He was processed and taken to juvenile hall arriving there about 2:30 a.m. Accompanying him were papers charging him with 13 counts of felony. The probation department released him to his family at 4 a.m.

It may have been they released him to his family instead of just turning him loose to save him the trouble of stealing another car to get home.

It should be reported that he was remanded to custody by the juvenile court as soon as his records were made available to them.

One of the side benefits for car thiefs is that small car owners often leave credit cards in them. That means a youngster can keep rolling until as long as he wants. The car's owner will be paying for all the gasoline he uses. Other credit cards provide other necessities.

Pages of Reports

It required scores of pages of reports the three officers were required to write showing events, places, times and mode of operation, but all three suspects are being held by juvenile authorities.

Whether they are released before this gets into print is a matter for the probation department to determine.

Based on evidence shown in the reports these youngsters had been arrested before but they were being released to commit more crime against innocent victims.

The cases against the trio are not closed. Evidence is being gathered that will identify at least one and as many as three other suspects. Police are not certain that they have charged the three in custody with all of the crimes they committed.

Car thefts and burglaries are not occasional juvenile happenings. They are crimes committed by youngsters who are energetic and imaginative. Too young to join the full-time work force, they use their time, energy and imagination frequently to commit adult type crimes.

From the looks of things, juvenile crime may get worse before it gets better.

Would Limit Property Appraisals

Tax Chief Calls for 5% Tax Hike Limit

The State Board of Equalization director has proposed an amendment to the California Constitution which would limit the amount a home could increase in appraised value for property tax purposes each year.

John Lynch, who has been a member of the Board 17 years, released the text of his proposed amendment last week.

It calls for a limit of five per cent to the increases of the appraised value of residential property as of the preceding lien date.

The amendment also confirms the present practice of setting the assessed value of property at 25% of the appraised value."

Lynch is concerned about inflationary increases in property taxes which have placed an overbearing burden on homeowners, particularly the elderly.

"I have great concern for every homeowner in California, but I am most disturbed about the plight of the elderly and others on fixed incomes who are being forced out of their homes in increasing numbers by rapidly escalating property taxes. It is outrageous that people who have worked all their lives to own homes are losing them because of taxation."

He emphasized that limiting increases in the appraised value of residential property to five per cent would not mean the assessed value would rise by five per cent.

Since property is assessed at 25 per cent of the appraised value, the actual assessment increase would be restricted to 1¼ per cent maximum.

The amendment would not apply to mobile homes which are taxed by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Bloodmobile Making Rounds During Month

The San Diego Blood Bank's Bloodmobile is making the rounds this month to fill its depleting reserves.

A volunteer donor can help replace the blood used and protect himself for unlimited blood tests at no cost by joining the Blood Assurance Plan.

Anyone in good health between the ages of 17 and 66 may donate. Minimum weight requirement is 110 pounds.

Credit received for each blood donation may be applied in hospitals throughout the United States or to one of the Donor Clubs: Blood Assurance Plan, Blood Reserve Plan or Stork Club.

Nearby Bloodmobile stops scheduled for August are as follows:

Sen. Stull Names New Office Aide

Senator John Stull (R-38th) has announced the appointment of George Chamberlin as his administrative assistant. Chamberlin previously has served as the Senator's field representative in Riverside County and will now work out of the main district office in Escondido.

"As administrative assistant," said Stull, "George will be responsible for the management of my three district offices in Escondido, Palm Desert and El Centro." As a result of last year's legislative reapportionment, Senator Stull now represents a district that includes three-quarters of San Diego County, five-sixths of Riverside County and all of Imperial County.

Senator Stull is also announcing the selection of Gretchen Poulson to fill Chamberlin's post in the Palm Desert office. Previously Mrs. Poulson served as an assistant to former Assemblyman Ray Seeley and the late congressman, Jerry Pettis.

New Medi-Cal Policy Drops Drug Labels

Drug labels on the monthly Medi-Cal identification card are no more thanks to a change enacted recently by the State Department of Health. On July 1 the Department eliminated a requirement for prior state approval of more than two doctor visits and two prescriptions a month, with some exceptions.

Cards sent to the more than 2 million persons eligible for Medi-Cal services no longer have drug labels, formerly redeemable for two prescriptions, but rather have two extra proof of eligibility labels which can be used for medical prescriptions and for doctor's visits.

The Department of Health, which administers the $2 billion Medi-Cal program has enclosed with the August cards a notice about the changes printed in English and Spanish.

The note explains that physicians and pharmacists know about the changes and exceptions to the new rule and will assist the Medi-Cal recipient in the proper use of the labels.

National Criminal Justice Conference to be Held Here

One doesn't have to be a volunteer in criminal justice to attend the National Forum of Volunteers in Criminal Justice, to be held Oct. 12-15 at the El Cortez Hotel.

The conference is being opened to all organizations using volunteers, and both volunteer and professional staff of any agency that uses unpaid staff in its program are being invited to attend.

Co-sponsors of the Forum include a number of organizations which are not directly involved in the criminal justice area, including the AFL-CIO, Junior League, the Jaycees, the General Federation of Women's-Clubs, American Bar Association, National Center for Voluntary Action and United Auto Workers.

Other sponsoring organizations include the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, California Youth Authority, National Association of Volunteer Services in Criminal Justice, National Council of Juvenile Court Judges, and Man-to-Man International.

Approximately 1,000 delegates from all parts of the nation are expected to attend the Forum, the fifth such annual gathering to mark the development of volunteer program planning in the U.S.

Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana, chairman of the U. S. Senate Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee, has accepted an invitation to be the keynote speaker on Oct. 12. It was Senator Bayh's subcommittee which led the effort to pass the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974, which provides for a nationwide effort to reduce delinquency.

Median Income Reported at $9,362 in '73

California taxpayers reported $9,362 median adjusted gross income on 1973 personal income tax returns filed in 1974.

This is an increase of only two percent over the previous year despite an 11 percent rise in total adjusted gross income, from $75.5 billion to $83.3 billion.

The modest increase in median average income and large increase in total adjusted gross income was a result of the large number of small or no tax returns filed, according to Allan Desin, Manager, Research & Statistics, Franchise Tax Board.

Median income, Desin explained, is at which point half the returns have greater and half have lesser income. The total number of returns increased approximately a half million, to 7.2 million with the bulk of the increase at the lower end of the income scale.

Large suburban Bay Area counties once again had the highest average incomes. Contra Costa was first in median average adjusted gross income for all returns filed with $12,079, followed by Marin with $11,919, and San Mateo with $11,605.

San Diego's $8,948 median income ranks 24th among the 58 California counties.

For joint returns of married couples, Marin County reported the highest median income of $17,966, San Mateo was second with $16,551, and Contra Costa was third with $15,889.

Median joint-return income in San Diego County was $12,630, ranking 17th in the state.

The information reported by the Franchise Tax Board is based upon 1973 income year returns due April 15, 1974, Desin said.

Army Corps Engineers Expand Role as Water Purity Guards

Rules published in July in the Federal Register implement a nationwide program by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers to protect the quality of the waters of the United States against environmentally harmful discharges of dredged or fill materials. While the regulation clarifies and expands the long-established Corps jurisdiction making it parallel to the coverage of the Environmental Protection Agency, many less harmful activities are excluded.

The final regulation, which was developed in close cooperation with the EPA, was published in compliance with an order of the U. S. District Court issued in March.

Some 4,500 comments received on the draft regulation have been considered in the preparation of the final rules.

3 Phases

Assistant Secretary of the Ary, Victor V. Veysey, announced that the Corps will gradually expand its jurisdiction in a three-phase program over the next two years.

Phase I, effective with the recent notice in the Federal Register, extends the existing permit procedures now applicable to traditional navigable waters of the United States to also include adjacent wetlands. These wetlands have been identified as an endangered and valuable resource.

Phase II, effective July 1, 1976, will initiate regulation of discharge of dredged or fill material into primary tributaries of navigable waters of the United States, natural lakes greater than five acres in surface areas and their adjacent wetlands.

Phase III, after July 1, 1977, will extend the Corps of Engineers' authority as directed by Congress to regulate discharges of dredge or fill material into other waters (secondary or other tributaries of navigable waters) downstream from the point where the flow exceeds five cubic feet per second.

Dredge Projects Eyed

Discharges of dredged material and the placement of fill material that are necessary for the construction of any structures in waters of the United States are covered by the program.

The regulation also includes a grandfather clause which "permits" dredge or fill projects that have already been completed. Additionally, permits will not be required for minor work started prior to publication of notice and scheduled to be completed by January.

Secretary Veysey explained that while this regulation becomes effective upon its publication, an additional comment period of 90 days and a series of public hearings will be offered throughout the nation so that the public can comment further on any of its provisions. These comments will be reviewed and the regulation modified as necessary.

If You Believe You've Been Cheated

A series of consumer protection advisories have been prepared by the California Trial Lawyers Association to warn consumers of some of the hazards of signing a contract. The following article is one of several that will be published in this column for several weeks.

Consumers are urged to write CTLA for their Consumer Protection Pamphlet which tells "How Not to Be Cheated and Who to Contact If You Are."

The address is at the end of this week's Column.

The 'Lemon' Law

This is the first of a two-part series on what to do if you buy a "lemon," that is, a product which you later discover to be defective.

Until fairly recently, the consumer who found that he or she had purchased a "lemon" could expect little sympahy from the seller, much less from the courts. The rule in law was summed up in the maxim, "Let the buyer beware." If the buyer didn't "beware," tough luck.

The buyer was expected to inspect the item he wished to purchase and to discover its defects before paying for it. If any defect escaped his attention, that was regarded as his own fault for not checking more carefully.

What follows is a step-by-step procedure for buyers who feel they have been "gypped," beginning with the least expensive remedies.

The first thing to do after discovery that a purchased item is defective is to notify the seller courteously of the specific nature of the defect. This notice should be given in writing and a copy of the notice kept by the buyer. Notice should be delivered to the seller promptly and in person if at all possible. If hand delivery is not possible, then certified or registered mail should be used. If notice is delivered in person, it is well to take along a witness, preferably someone not related by blood or marriage to the buyer.

This precaution is important for the purpose of refuting the seller's frequent defense, at later trial on the matter, that he did not receive notice of the defect, or that notice was not given promptly.

Warranty Service

If you received a written warranty with the product you bought and later discovered to be defective, read the warranty carefully and be sure to bring it to the attention of the seller.

Having given notice of the defect, the buyer should then give the seller an opportunity to correct the defect if it is possible to do so. But be careful: do not allow the seller to stall repair for an unreasonable period of time.

The consumer should allow only a minimum reasonable time for correction. After the buyer has dealt personally with the seller and failed to secure satisfaction, he should turn to adminstrative remedies.

Because the consumer movement has become much stronger in recent years, consumer protection has became a popular cause among legislators and attorneys. As a result, there are now many remedies available to the buyer of personal property.

Many departments and agencies have been established at both the county and state levels of government for the protection and assistance of buyers of personal property items.

Administrative Action

The California Department of Consumer Affairs will take your complaint and will send you forms to fill out. Your complaint will then be handled either by the department itself or forwarded to the appropriate county, state, or federal agency.

If you wish to contact a local consumer affairs office first, consult the listing in the white pages entitled Consumer Complaint & Protection Coordinators. The listings are on page 173 of the Suburban San Diego directory. The listing itemizes different products and services and the appropriate Consumer Affairs number to dial for each type of complaint.

If you prefer, you may write to the state office at 1020 "N" st., Room 516, Sacramento, CA 958814 or call (916) 445-4465.

After your complaint has been filed, you and the seller will be contacted by the Department or a special agency to see what can be done.

The power of the Department of Consumer Affairs is considerable, especially if the seller holds any kind of state license.

(To obtain a copy of the California Trial Lawyers Association's Consumer Protection pamphlet, designed to acquaint you with your rights in the law, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to CTLA, 1020 12th St., Sacramento. Please specify whether you want it in English or Spanish).

Dear Editor:

RE: "Trial Bus Route to serve CASA DE ORO riders" scheduled to begin January 26, 1976. Our first question is "Why the long delay until that date?"

Why not another Bus Route from the beginning of Lakeview ave., above Sweetwater Reservoir Dam, to Kempton st., to Jamacha rd., to Helix st. to Kenwood dr., to Bancroft, to Grossmont center for connection with the Express Bus for Downtown San Diego? This would offer Bus Service to hundreds of people. The additional Bus Route should begin simultaneously with the other new Bus Route.

Most families will soon have to change their mode of transportation as the cost of gasoline and auto repairs go up and up. Bus transportation is the best and least costly of all proposed mass travel. We already have streets and highways for buses — why not use them?

Home Starts Climb Continued in June

New residential construction in California continued to increase in June, according to Bank of America.

New housing starts were at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 132,000 units compared to the May rate of 125,000 units. However, bank economists noted, the June rate was below the 153,000 rate of June 1974.

Starts of single family homes are slightly above the rate of a year ago, but apartment construction continues to lag, the bank said. During the first six months of 1975, new housing starts in the state were 30 per cent below the total for the same period last year.
